

Luminous Spaces Feng Shui 2010

Restricting Flow

The old design consisted of high-backed booths and half-walls, restricting the flow of energy throughout the space. An unused pizza oven being used for storage was further stagnating the energy. Co-owner, Beppe Desiderio, understood this and called in Luminous Spaces for a consultation.

Color Blue

The color blue is the least-appealing color for a restaurant. Color research has proven that blue suppresses the appetite, exactly the opposite effect that is wanted in this space!

New Design

The warmer colors of red and yellow are known to enhance appetite!

New Design

Removal of booths and half-walls really opens up the space, making it more inviting and welcoming. Adding more round tables cuts back on the angles created by square tables. Linens on all tables softens the energy, making for a more comfortable space. Patrons linger more, enjoy more, and come back more often!
